All intellectual property in any document hosted on <https://www.lma.eu.com/documents-guidelines/documents> is owned by the Loan Market Association ("LMA"). Use of any of these documents is restricted. Use of these documents by members of the LMA ("Members") is subject to the rights and obligations set out in the articles of association and byelaws of the LMA (in particular byelaw 10), which are available through the LMA website here:

Members are granted a licence to use these documents for certain permitted purposes. A summary of the permitted and prohibited purposes is set out below.

Members can:

Use LMA materials for internal purposes.

Use LMA materials for transactions in the loan or private placement markets or in connection with the trading of financial assets where the Member is either a party to the specific transaction or an advisor on the specific transaction.

Use LMA materials to facilitate internal education and training to any Authorised User (as defined in Byelaw 10).

Use the LMA materials in a Member's internal systems or in its externally-hosted services, provided that such systems/services are only available to Authorised Users.

Republish or redistribute Non-LMA Authored Information (as defined in Byelaw 10) subject to notification to the Association and the application of the required copyright notice.

Members cannot (without the LMA's express written consent):

Provide LMA materials to non-Members except where use by the non-Member is in connection with a specific, identified transaction in which the Member is either acting as an advisor or the Member or a Member Group Company is a party.

Use LMA materials to create precedents for any third party (i.e. any person that is not a Member or Member Group Company).

Use LMA materials to create agreements for transactions not (i) in the loan / private placement markets or (ii) connected with the trading of financial assets.

Integrate LMA materials into platforms, services or products where they would be made available to third parties.

Use automated tools to download or index LMA materials, or use LMA Materials in any way for training or fine-tuning any AI or machine learning models or tools.

Offer LMA materials for sale or otherwise communicate them for profit or to any third Party.

Publish LMA materials or distribute LMA materials which are or might be commercially, reputationally or otherwise prejudicial to the LMA.

Use the LMA materials with technology solutions, databases and/or platforms to develop products and services for more than one Member Group.

Use LMA materials to provide to a loan market participant a platform / service that competes with the LMA.

Non-Members are not entitled to use or retain a copy of any document other than in connection with a specific, identified transaction involving one or more Members or Member Group Companies.
